

Backup

Here is your stream
The long-term nourished dream
Lay down at the shore and watch it gleam

Should make you smile
It has been quite a while
I said I'd dig a riverbed and here it is

Chorus:

It's a backup of what we've been
An imagined guarantee
It's a backup to lock away
A benchmark to reload

Here is your creek
Feel the water with your feet
Your mind floats on the waves, this creek is deep

Step on the bridge
Fill a bottle with your hopes
Cork the insides dry and throw it in

Chorus:

It's a backup of what we've been
An imagined guarantee
It's a backup to lock away
A benchmark to reload

This is your stream
Where you might never ever be
You might never even see it, so here's the sound at least

It's still no help
It has no answers
You will see, it's just a stream
